HOBBIT

As The Hobbit: An unexpected Journey is released in cinemas, people all across the world are queuing up to see it! With the use of new technology, this classic novel has been brought to life. The Hobbit was written by the British author J. R. R. Tolkien. It is one of the best-selling books of all time and the prequel to the popular Lord of the Rings series. It tells the story of Bilbo Baggins, a young hero who goes to battle a dragon. However, on his journey he finds a ring that changes his life forever. Now, with the help of award-winning director Peter Jackson, The Hobbit hit the big screen. The plot will thrill you, and the photography will amaze you! It was filmed using special cameras that captured each scene at twice the rate of standard films. This means that instead of seeing 24 frames every second, viewers see 48. The result is a far smoother and clearer picture. What’s more, every tiny detail is captured, making the film much more realistic. With the added bonus of 3D, the film is incredibly life-like and very impressive to watch. Thanks to the success of films like The Hobbit it looks like high frame-rate technology is here to stay. So welcome to a new age of film, one that will take you on a journey so realistic it’s like stepping into another world.

1. The film is based on a novel. _______
2. The Hobbit was the inspiration for another book. _______
3. Special technology was used in the production of the book. _______
4. In the future all films will have 48 frames per second. _______
5. 3D films look unreal. _______
6. J. R.R. Tolkien wrote ______________________
7. The Hobbit is about a battle between _________________.
8. Peter Jackson is the ____________________________.
9. What makes the film realistic is the use of _____________________________.

II. Przeczytaj poniższą recenzję. Następnie przyporządkuj jej poszczególnym fragmentom 1-5 nagłówki A-F. Jeden nagłówek nie pasuje do żadnego fragmentu.

FOOD

1 - …..
The Taj Mahal restaurant is situated on a housing estate 2 km from the town centre. It’s not easy to find but the food and atmosphere is certainly worth the effort.

2 - …..
The first thing you notice as you walk in, is the real atmosphere of India. The colours, the furniture, the paintings on the walls and the music playing in the background all transport you to another continent.

3 - …..
The moment you go inside a smiling waiter welcomes you and shows you to your table. For the rest of your time there, you can feel like a real prince. I left a huge tip.

4 - …..
Of course, the most important thing about any restaurant is what you get on your plate. You won’t be disappointed. Everything is fresh and delicious and the choice is amazing.

5 - …..
The only small problem with the restaurant is that it leaves your wallet a lot emptier than when you walk in. It certainly isn’t cheap but as a treat on special occasions, it’s the best place in town.

Online shopping is here to stay. From the comfort of your own home, at the click of a button, you can buy books, CDs, food, clothes, electrical equipment, and even holidays. It’s so simple that anyone can do it. However, a lot of people are still afraid of it. Of course, some sites are safer than others but, with a little bit of care, you can shop as safely, or even more safely than at your local shopping centre.

The most important thing to remember is that, when giving credit card details over the internet, you don’t want anyone else to see them. That means the three golden rules. Don’t use a public computer. Don’t send details by email and don’t use websites that aren’t totally secure.

Happy shopping!

The writer thinks that:

1 Online shopping is easy to do. _______
2 The internet isn’t as safe as normal shops. _______
3 You should keep your credit card details a secret. _______
4 Email is a good way to send credit card details. –
5 Some websites are not safe. _______
